Tokyo, Japan (January 14, 2016) – Cardfight!! Online, Bushiroad’s first English online card game for PC, is entering its beta testing phase soon and is calling for beta testers.

Interested fans and players may register for the beta at http://bit.ly/CFO\_BetaReg from January 13, 2016 at 12:00 Pacific Standard Time.

Bushiroad also mentioned that all closed beta participants will also receive a mystery reward within Cardfight!! Online for participating. The mystery reward will be revealed before the actual launch of Cardfight!! Online.

Bushiroad is hoping that players would assist with the testing the stability of the game and also discover any gameplay bugs that may have escaped during the alpha testing. Any feedback would help with improving the game, both frontend and backend before the actual launch of Cardfight!! Online.

All beta testers' accounts will be retained throughout the testing phase and during the live launch. However, all data stored within this Closed Beta Test will not be carried over to the next phase of testing or live launch.

More details regarding the Closed Beta phase will be made available through emails to all successful applicants.
