pick of the month

Absolute Blade Knight, Livarot [V-TD11/003EN] Cardfight!! Vanguard Trial Deck 11: Altmile

For starters, would you just stop for a moment and admire that stunning artwork (especially those blades of light)! This card goes very well with units like Blue Sky Knight, Altmile from the same deck, and Aerial Divine Knight, Altmile (available in V-EB14, coming soon!); the former allowing for Livarot to be added to hand, while the latter bestows upon it power-ups! If your preferences lie with Blaster Blade and friends, Livarot is also a nifty one that allows for you to search out for Blaster Blade much easier!

A little "Altmile" goes a long way, Serene

Girl of Healing, Asia; First Friend [Fdd/W65-E043; Fdd/W65-E071] Fujimi Fantasia Bunko

Apart from being a collection of various popular light novels, one of the things that I like about Fujimi Fantasia Bunko lies in that there are several strong CX combos in this set. One of my favorites come from this "Girl of Healing, Asia" character card and its climax card, "First Friend". It grants me power boosts, a simultaneous heal and finding a character for attacking, all in one! For starters, all my (Fantasia Bunko) or (Demon) characters on the field get a neat boost of +1500 in power through its first AUTO ability. With its CX combo, all my characters get a further boost of +1500 in power. In other words, that is a hefty potential boost of +3000, for each of my other characters on the field! At the same time, I also get 1 heal through its AUTO ability. Through the Standby effect on its climax card, I can bring back a second copy of "Girl of Healing, Asia" from the waiting room and place it on any position on the field. This increases the potential boost to a whopping +6000, for each of my other characters on the field!

Dark Burial Executer Dragon, Abygale [S-UB06/0002EN] Future Card Buddyfight Ace Ultimate Booster Vol. 6 Buddy Again Vol. 3 ~Beyond the Ages~

I'm sure many players were beside themselves with joy when news dropped of Abygale's return and it's not hard to see why! Coming equipped with a special ability that ensures attacks hit at their full force, Shadow Dive, and able to be called to the field at no cost, even I would want to try my hand at building an Abygale deck!

VANGUARD DEBUTS ON MOBILE!

Finally, Vanguard Zero is out in the iOS App store and Google Play! Like many of the players out there, I have been excited to play the game since the announcement.

Vanguard Zero is fundamentally the same game as the physical trading card game but with a few adaptations to allow it to run smoothly on a mobile platform. These changes however brought out a new way of playing Vanguard and I have to admit they are really fun.

Deck Construction

Decks now consist of a First Vanguard(FV) and 13 of each Grade from 1 to 3, making up a 40-card deck.

Sentinels & Intercepts

Grade 1 Sentinels and Grade 2 Intercepts are still available but they work automatically now. Players can no longer choose the timing they want to use these abilities, so planning ahead and predicting your opponent's moves becomes more important than ever.

Sentinels automatically activate if lethal damage would be taken, and they do not require the player to discard a card like in the TCG.

Opponents can't attack your vanguard until all the units with intercept are cleared.

Triggers

Triggers are now tagged onto all of your Grade 3 units and you get to choose what triggers they will be. Hence there will be a total of 13 triggers but heal triggers are still limited to 4.

Drive checks

Drive check no longer adds cards to your hand. If the check reveals a trigger, the trigger effects are applied and the card is sent to the drop zone. Otherwise, it is placed on the bottom of the deck.

Getting cards

There are two ways of getting cards in game - Gacha or Crafting. Think of Gacha as purchasing sealed booster packs from stores, while Crafting is a little like buying single cards directly. Using the Gacha system to get cards can also net you crafting materials that can be used to craft specific cards.

With the free gacha tickets and gems that are given out now to celebrate the release of Vanguard Zero, I was able to build a basic Oracle Think Tank deck! It may not be the most optimized, but it is sufficient to start the grind with!

Crafting material

Crafting materials can also be found from the Character Fight. For example, defeating Aichi will net you Royal Paladin crafting materials. These character fights come with a handy Auto Fight function, where the AI will do battle for you. Handy to get the farming portion of the game out of the way, and for the real fun to begin! And once you meet the conditions, you can skip the battle entirely using Quick Fight!

Tutorial

First 10 minutes of gameplay is mostly tutorial. There is also a tutorial section that gives a clear explanation of the game. Completing also gives some in-game currency which is used to purchase cards gacha.

The changes to Sentinels and Intercept meant that I had to adapt my strategies and deck builds to accommodate them, but I feel that these actually made Vanguard Zero more fun to play! Before I knew it, I had spent several hours on it refining my decks and challenging other players. Vanguard Zero is perfect for seasoned Vanguard players looking for a challenge, and for those looking to dive into the world of Vanguard!
